

GEN. WOOD STILL LEADS JOHNSON IN JERSEY PRIMARIES

Revised Returns Early This Afternoon Give Wood 49,770 and Johnson 49,237—Harding Has 10,000 Lead Over Wood in Ohio.

Newark, April 28—Major General Leonard Wood was still leading Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California this afternoon in New Jersey's preferential presidential primary contest.

The Californian who took the lead on the returns last night, who was 728 votes behind his opponent at 7 o'clock this morning, managed to cut down this margin at one time to 322, but later the general regained ground somewhat. At 12:45 o'clock, revised returns for 1926 election districts out of 2,025 gave Wood 49,770 and Johnson 49,237.

Governor Edward I. Edwards, who has announced that he would carry the fight against prohibition onto the floor of the San Francisco convention, was elected head of the Democratic "big four." Other Democratic delegates at large elected, all without opposition, were James P. Nugent, Essex county Democratic leader; Mayor Frank Frederic W. Donnelly of Trenton. Democratic voters did not have an opportunity to register their choice for president, there being no candidates' names printed on the ballot, although all of the "big four" and virtually all of the district delegates were pledged to the candidacy of Governor Edwards.

Election of three members of the Republican "big four" was assured. United States Senators Walter E. Edge and Joseph S. Freylinghuysen, pledged to the presidential preference expressed by the voters of the state, led their opponents by substantial pluralities, while former Governor Edward C. Stokes, pledged to Wood, obtained the third place.

Former Acting Governor William N. Runyon, pledged to Wood, was leading for fourth place with a margin of more than 3,000 votes. He was followed in order by Mulford L.

WILSON MARSHALL JR'S BODY BROUGHT HOME

New York, April 28—The bodies of 353 American soldiers who gave their lives on foreign soil, and of whom all but 80 died in France, arrived here today on the Army transport Mercury from Antwerp and Southampton.

Included among the bodies were those of four officers, all second lieutenants. They were Wilson Marshall, Jr., 22nd Aero Squadron of Bridgeport, Conn.; Roger A. Bright, 16th Aero Squadron, of Tompkins, Miss.; William F. Martin, Engineer Corps, of Big Springs, Tex.; and Joseph F. McCarthy, Q. M. C., Buffalo, N. Y.

Awaiting the arrival of the Mer-

Seek To Resume Trade With Russia

Atlantic City, N. J., April 28—The board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce today authorized appointment of a commission to proceed to Europe to investigate the possibility of resumption of trade relations between the United States and the Russian people.

President Homer L. Ferguson of the Chamber was directed to name the members of the commission and also form the board of directors to confer with the presidents of a number of large manufacturing corporations, who requested the chamber to appoint the commission.

Mr. Ferguson was given authority to "bring the project to a successful termination," with the provision that the commission should make its report to the board of directors.

The action was taken in an executive session of the board after President Ferguson had presented correspondence with Allen Wardell, temporary secretary of a committee composed of the heads of several manufacturing corporations, inviting the board on the boards co-operation in an effort to determine conditions under which trade with the Russian people might be resumed.

Discussion in the convention's general and group sessions today centered about problems of transportation and production as bearing upon the high cost of living, and with organized labor's attitude toward recent legislation.

George A. Post, chairman of the chamber's railroad committee, declared "we have the right to expect and insist that the railroad employees will co-operate with their officers and keep the wheels rolling, and not paralyze commerce with quarrels among themselves, which, in effect, is a strike against the public, whose congress has established a tribunal for the fair, impartial adjudication of labor disputes."

"The attitude of organized labor toward railroad labor board is deeply to be deplored," he said. "So bitter was their opposition that after the passage of the transportation act publication was made by labor leaders of their intention to mark for punishment at the polls all senators and representatives who voted for the measure."

The national chamber of commerce represents a large part of the Ballard, of East Orange and Thomas B. Layden of Peterson, both pledged to Johnson; City Commissioner Thomas L. Raymond of Newark, pledged to Wood, and former United States Attorney General John W. Griggs, another Wood adherent.

The vote with 166 districts missing, stood:

Freylinghuysen 59,571; Edge 57,297; Stokes 49,101; Runyon 44,294; Ballard 41,780; Layden 41,672; Raymond 41,418; Griggs 40,353.

Returns for district delegates still were incomplete. Republican results were known in only five districts which elected five Wood delegates, four Johnson and one unpledged. Incomplete returns from six other districts showed a close vote but indicated election of eight Wood, two Johnson and two unpledged delegates. Returns from the Twelfth and last district had not been received at 1 o'clock.

Columbus, O., April 28.—Additional returns from yesterday's presidential preference primary election in Ohio today gave Senator Warren G. Harding a lead of almost 10,000 votes over Major General Leonard Wood. The vote from 4,677 out of a total of 5,882 precincts in the state gave Harding 102,762 and Wood 92,766.

Boston, April 28—The organization of the Republican and Democratic candidates for delegates at large to the national conventions were elected by substantial majorities in yesterday's presidential preference primary according to the complete vote today. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge led the Republican "big four" who headed the ballot as a group. He was followed in the order named by Speaker D. C. C. The assistant speaker of the House of Representatives, former Senator W. Murray Crane and Edward A. Thurston, former chairman of the Republican state committee.

The Democratic "regulars" were elected by majorities of three and four to one over former Congressman Joseph E. F. O'Connor, who made his campaign on an anti-prohibition issue. Those elected are Senator David L. Walsh, Richard H. Long, twice Democratic nominee for governor; District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier and Daniel F. Doherty.

Of the 35 Republican delegates, including those at large, 29 are unpledged, but several of these have announced their intention to vote for Major Gen. Leonard Wood. Two are pledged to Wood and four were described on the ballot as favorable to him. The entire Democratic delegation is unpledged.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. A. Keefe of Norfolk.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. H. Flynn, the new chancellor of the diocese, the assistant masters, Revs. T. J. Brennan, B. J. Keough and Vincent McDonough, all of Hartford.

Order of Ceremonies.

The ceremonies were in four parts: The preludes or preliminary services; the consecration proper; the presentation of insignia, and the conclusion. The Mass celebrated both by the consecrator and the consecrated, during the period of time of the consecration. This followed the preliminary services which embraced the reading of the mandatory, or apostolic commission, the taking of the oath, the examination on the seven questions, the reading of the canons and articles of faith, the vesting of the bishop-elect in Pontifical garments, the exhortation of the consecrator to the consecrated and the chanting of the Litany of the Saints.

The consecration proper was the placing of the evangelarium on the neck and shoulders of the bishop-elect, the imposition of hands and the anointing with holy chrism on the head and hands of the bishop-elect.

The episcopal insignia presentation included the blessing and tradition of the crozier with the accompanying admonition by the consecrator, the placing of the ring and the placing of it on the third finger of the new bishop's right hand, the tradition of the evangelarium with the command to Preach the Gospel to the People entrusted to him. At the offertory the gifts of the Mass, the two loaves of bread, and the two barrels of wine were made to the consecrator. The consecrator continued the Mass with the consecration on the Epistle side of the altar until after the communion when he changed to the Gospel side. After the blessing of the bread, the mitre was blessed and the consecrator placed it on the head of the bishop-elect. Up till this time the consecrator wore his biretta. The gloves were blessed and placed on his hands. The conclusion of the ceremony comprised the singing of the Deum, the blessing by the new bishop, and the singing of the "Ad Multos Annos."

The musical portion of the services was of special arrangement and significance. The Sanctuary choir was directed by Rev. John J. Kelley of Stamford; Rev. Walter McCann of Norwalk, was organist. The chants were by the Revs. J. F. Barrett, W. D. Casey, Joseph C. Martin, Andrew Kelly, Harry Cassidy, James H. Grady, P. J. Dolin, all of Hartford; George Brady, of Windsor Locks; Stephen Grohol of New Britain; Paul Keating, Stamford; Charles M. Kelly, Bridgeport; William Killeway, Waterbury; Denis O'Brien, of Danbury; W. P. O'Brien, Thompsonville; W. F. O'Dell, Elmwood; W. A. Rouvier, Putnam; Edward Shaughnessy, Bridgeport, and Matthew Brady, New Haven.

The retiring of priests who assisted at the altar services was a long one. The thurifer was Rev. Anthony Kaicher, Hartford; the acolytes, Revs. J. A. Doherty, Torrington, and Rev. T. F. Lynch, Ansonia; the cross-bearer, Rev. J. M. Finn, Danbury; the mitre-bearer, Rev. Cornelius Teulings, Waterbury; the crozier-bearer, Rev. David Hutchinson, New Haven; the book-bearer, Rev. J. R. Quinn, Meriden; candle-bearer, Rev. J. J. McCormick, Hartford; greniale-bearer, Rev. Daniel Manning, Waterbury; gloves-bearer, Rev. Edward Flynn, West Hartford.

The chaplains for the mandatum and Evangelarium were Revs. N. P. Coleman, of Riverside, and J. E. McCarthy of Moosup, respectively.

For the offerings they were: Candles, Very Rev. Joseph Byrne, Ferndale; golden loaf of bread, Rev. Charles Coppens, New Britain; silver loaf of bread, Rev. Stanislaus Musiel, Hartford; golden chalice of wine, Rev. Joseph Valdambrini, Waterbury and silver chalice of wine, Rev. Walter Greene, Hartford. The clerics for the conservator's vestments were: Sandals and cushion, Rev. W. P. Kearney, Bristol; amice and faldstool, Rev. Joseph Yankowski, Waterbury; alb, Rev. Stephen Paulik, Torrington; cincture, Rev. Peter Karamarsh, Hartford; stole, Rev. H. F. McCarthy, Hartford; tunic, Rev. C. P. Kelly, New Haven; dalmatic, Rev. W. T. O'Brien, Baltic; chasuble, Rev. W. P. Ladin, Foxcastle. The custodian of holy oils and ponticals was Rev. Dr. J. E. Joyce, East Haven and the linen grimalle, Rev. J. E. McCarthy, Moosup. The vestments of Bishop Murray were in charge of Rev. E. A. Cotter, Middletown.

The bishop's ring given to Rt. Rev. Bishop Murray by the archbishop, with an eagle, emblematic of St. John, the Evangelist, engraven on the upper section. A dove represents Gregory the Great; three silver stars in a field of blue, are from the arms of the Murray family in Ireland. The words on the ring are Agnus Dei. The further engraving is of a column from an eleventh century church in Venice; a rose emblematic of Mary, the Mother of God, and a lily for St. Joseph, the patron saint of the cathedral.

The bishop's pectoral cross is a copy of the Cross of Cong, A. D. 1123, now in the National Museum at Dublin. The central stone is an emerald with forty-four small emeralds in the setting. The metal is green gold and the tracery is Celtic. The receptacle is for relics of the martyrs and such were placed in it during the consecration.

The crozier, the episcopal emblem, is of gold, five feet in length, jointed, the crozier support is a cross with an amethyst on each side deeper in color than that in the ring.

The alb, a seamless robe of white hand-made lace, was wrought by Sisters of St. Joseph of Le Puy, in southern France. It was the gift of Sisters of St. Joseph convent, Hartford. The alb is worn over the cassock. The red silk of the cuffs is indicative of rank. Under the alb is the amice over the rochet, and around the alb is a siltken girdle. A stole of silk is over the shoulders and a tunic over the stole.

The chasuble is of white watered silk with gold fleur-de-lis embroidered with a monogram of Christ in the center. This was made by the Dominican Sisters of Hunt's Point, the Bronx, New York.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. A. Keefe of Norfolk.

Rev. John J. Murray's Consecrated Bishop

Hartford, Conn., April 28—With the most solemn and ritualistic impressiveness of the Roman Catholic Church, Rt. Rev. John J. Murray, late chancellor of the diocese, now titular bishop of Flavius, was consecrated auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Hartford, in St. Joseph's church today. The assemblage on this occasion was of large numbers, overflowing the capacity of the great edifice as was the case when Rt. Rev. John J. Nilan was consecrated to the bishopric ten years ago. The solemn ceremonies closely approximated those of the latter occasion. They adhered to the order laid down in the liturgy of the Church. As the services of consecration could not be held in Rome, or in the See to which Rt. Rev. Bishop Murray is credited it necessarily was held in the cathedral of the diocese in which he has so long served as priest and chancellor.

Although the cathedral service at 10:30 a. m. was a public one the great number of priests here, embracing practically all the diocesan members of various orders both cleric and nuns, the visiting clergy and lay guests, filled a considerable portion of the seating capacity. The parishioners and hundreds of Catholics from other parishes had the remaining seats and filled the galleries.

A procession of the priests with the dignitaries of the day preceded the services. This entered through the main doors at Farmington avenue and the priests went to their appointed places, either in the choir, or the sanctuary.

The Consecrator, Most Rev. John Boneano, Apostolic Delegate, Archbishop of Melitine, with his assistants, were at the high altar, while the bishop-elect, Rt. Rev. John J. Nilan, the deacon, and the Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Shanahan, rector of the Catholic University at Washington, D. C., the assistant deacon, Rev. D. C. C. The assisting priest, Rev. Maurice F. McLaughlin, vice president of St. Thomas Seminary, Hartford, and other officers were Rev. James B. Nihil, Bridgeport, first deacon of honor Rev. Arthur O'Keefe, Torrington, second deacon of honor, Rev. W. J. McCann, South Manchester, deacon of the Mass; Rev. U. O. Bellerose, Taftville, sub-deacon.

The preacher was Rt. Rev. Thomas S. Dugan, rector of the Cathedral of the Holy Spirit, Hartford. The chaplains to Bishop Nilan were Rev. M. A. Sullivan, Hartford, and Rev. R. F. Shortell, Ridgefield. The chaplains to Bishop Shanahan were Rev. P. H. McLean, Milford and Rev. P. J. McCormick, Washington, D. C. The bishop-elect at his altar was attended by Rev. J. F. Ahern, Springfield, Mass., and Rev. W. A. Keefe, of Norfolk.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. A. Keefe of Norfolk.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. H. Flynn, the new chancellor of the diocese, the assistant masters, Revs. T. J. Brennan, B. J. Keough and Vincent McDonough, all of Hartford.

Order of Ceremonies.

The ceremonies were in four parts: The preludes or preliminary services; the consecration proper; the presentation of insignia, and the conclusion. The Mass celebrated both by the consecrator and the consecrated, during the period of time of the consecration. This followed the preliminary services which embraced the reading of the mandatory, or apostolic commission, the taking of the oath, the examination on the seven questions, the reading of the canons and articles of faith, the vesting of the bishop-elect in Pontifical garments, the exhortation of the consecrator to the consecrated and the chanting of the Litany of the Saints.

The consecration proper was the placing of the evangelarium on the neck and shoulders of the bishop-elect, the imposition of hands and the anointing with holy chrism on the head and hands of the bishop-elect.

The episcopal insignia presentation included the blessing and tradition of the crozier with the accompanying admonition by the consecrator, the placing of the ring and the placing of it on the third finger of the new bishop's right hand, the tradition of the evangelarium with the command to Preach the Gospel to the People entrusted to him. At the offertory the gifts of the Mass, the two loaves of bread, and the two barrels of wine were made to the consecrator. The consecrator continued the Mass with the consecration on the Epistle side of the altar until after the communion when he changed to the Gospel side. After the blessing of the bread, the mitre was blessed and the consecrator placed it on the head of the bishop-elect. Up till this time the consecrator wore his biretta. The gloves were blessed and placed on his hands. The conclusion of the ceremony comprised the singing of the Deum, the blessing by the new bishop, and the singing of the "Ad Multos Annos."

The musical portion of the services was of special arrangement and significance. The Sanctuary choir was directed by Rev. John J. Kelley of Stamford; Rev. Walter McCann of Norwalk, was organist. The chants were by the Revs. J. F. Barrett, W. D. Casey, Joseph C. Martin, Andrew Kelly, Harry Cassidy, James H. Grady, P. J. Dolin, all of Hartford; George Brady, of Windsor Locks; Stephen Grohol of New Britain; Paul Keating, Stamford; Charles M. Kelly, Bridgeport; William Killeway, Waterbury; Denis O'Brien, of Danbury; W. P. O'Brien, Thompsonville; W. F. O'Dell, Elmwood; W. A. Rouvier, Putnam; Edward Shaughnessy, Bridgeport, and Matthew Brady, New Haven.

The retiring of priests who assisted at the altar services was a long one. The thurifer was Rev. Anthony Kaicher, Hartford; the acolytes, Revs. J. A. Doherty, Torrington, and Rev. T. F. Lynch, Ansonia; the cross-bearer, Rev. J. M. Finn, Danbury; the mitre-bearer, Rev. Cornelius Teulings, Waterbury; the crozier-bearer, Rev. David Hutchinson, New Haven; the book-bearer, Rev. J. R. Quinn, Meriden; candle-bearer, Rev. J. J. McCormick, Hartford; greniale-bearer, Rev. Daniel Manning, Waterbury; gloves-bearer, Rev. Edward Flynn, West Hartford.

The chaplains for the mandatum and Evangelarium were Revs. N. P. Coleman, of Riverside, and J. E. McCarthy of Moosup, respectively.

For the offerings they were: Candles, Very Rev. Joseph Byrne, Ferndale; golden loaf of bread, Rev. Charles Coppens, New Britain; silver loaf of bread, Rev. Stanislaus Musiel, Hartford; golden chalice of wine, Rev. Joseph Valdambrini, Waterbury and silver chalice of wine, Rev. Walter Greene, Hartford. The clerics for the conservator's vestments were: Sandals and cushion, Rev. W. P. Kearney, Bristol; amice and faldstool, Rev. Joseph Yankowski, Waterbury; alb, Rev. Stephen Paulik, Torrington; cincture, Rev. Peter Karamarsh, Hartford; stole, Rev. H. F. McCarthy, Hartford; tunic, Rev. C. P. Kelly, New Haven; dalmatic, Rev. W. T. O'Brien, Baltic; chasuble, Rev. W. P. Ladin, Foxcastle. The custodian of holy oils and ponticals was Rev. Dr. J. E. Joyce, East Haven and the linen grimalle, Rev. J. E. McCarthy, Moosup. The vestments of Bishop Murray were in charge of Rev. E. A. Cotter, Middletown.

The bishop's ring given to Rt. Rev. Bishop Murray by the archbishop, with an eagle, emblematic of St. John, the Evangelist, engraven on the upper section. A dove represents Gregory the Great; three silver stars in a field of blue, are from the arms of the Murray family in Ireland. The words on the ring are Agnus Dei. The further engraving is of a column from an eleventh century church in Venice; a rose emblematic of Mary, the Mother of God, and a lily for St. Joseph, the patron saint of the cathedral.

The bishop's pectoral cross is a copy of the Cross of Cong, A. D. 1123, now in the National Museum at Dublin. The central stone is an emerald with forty-four small emeralds in the setting. The metal is green gold and the tracery is Celtic. The receptacle is for relics of the martyrs and such were placed in it during the consecration.

The crozier, the episcopal emblem, is of gold, five feet in length, jointed, the crozier support is a cross with an amethyst on each side deeper in color than that in the ring.

The alb, a seamless robe of white hand-made lace, was wrought by Sisters of St. Joseph of Le Puy, in southern France. It was the gift of Sisters of St. Joseph convent, Hartford. The alb is worn over the cassock. The red silk of the cuffs is indicative of rank. Under the alb is the amice over the rochet, and around the alb is a siltken girdle. A stole of silk is over the shoulders and a tunic over the stole.

The chasuble is of white watered silk with gold fleur-de-lis embroidered with a monogram of Christ in the center. This was made by the Dominican Sisters of Hunt's Point, the Bronx, New York.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. A. Keefe of Norfolk.

dale; golden loaf of bread, Rev. Charles Coppens, New Britain; silver loaf of bread, Rev. Stanislaus Musiel, Hartford; golden chalice of wine, Rev. Joseph Valdambrini, Waterbury and silver chalice of wine, Rev. Walter Greene, Hartford. The clerics for the conservator's vestments were: Sandals and cushion, Rev. W. P. Kearney, Bristol; amice and faldstool, Rev. Joseph Yankowski, Waterbury; alb, Rev. Stephen Paulik, Torrington; cincture, Rev. Peter Karamarsh, Hartford; stole, Rev. H. F. McCarthy, Hartford; tunic, Rev. C. P. Kelly, New Haven; dalmatic, Rev. W. T. O'Brien, Baltic; chasuble, Rev. W. P. Ladin, Foxcastle. The custodian of holy oils and ponticals was Rev. Dr. J. E. Joyce, East Haven and the linen grimalle, Rev. J. E. McCarthy, Moosup. The vestments of Bishop Murray were in charge of Rev. E. A. Cotter, Middletown.

The bishop's ring given to Rt. Rev. Bishop Murray by the archbishop, with an eagle, emblematic of St. John, the Evangelist, engraven on the upper section. A dove represents Gregory the Great; three silver stars in a field of blue, are from the arms of the Murray family in Ireland. The words on the ring are Agnus Dei. The further engraving is of a column from an eleventh century church in Venice; a rose emblematic of Mary, the Mother of God, and a lily for St. Joseph, the patron saint of the cathedral.

The bishop's pectoral cross is a copy of the Cross of Cong, A. D. 1123, now in the National Museum at Dublin. The central stone is an emerald with forty-four small emeralds in the setting. The metal is green gold and the tracery is Celtic. The receptacle is for relics of the martyrs and such were placed in it during the consecration.

The crozier, the episcopal emblem, is of gold, five feet in length, jointed, the crozier support is a cross with an amethyst on each side deeper in color than that in the ring.

The alb, a seamless robe of white hand-made lace, was wrought by Sisters of St. Joseph of Le Puy, in southern France. It was the gift of Sisters of St. Joseph convent, Hartford. The alb is worn over the cassock. The red silk of the cuffs is indicative of rank. Under the alb is the amice over the rochet, and around the alb is a siltken girdle. A stole of silk is over the shoulders and a tunic over the stole.

The chasuble is of white watered silk with gold fleur-de-lis embroidered with a monogram of Christ in the center. This was made by the Dominican Sisters of Hunt's Point, the Bronx, New York.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. A. Keefe of Norfolk.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. H. Flynn, the new chancellor of the diocese, the assistant masters, Revs. T. J. Brennan, B. J. Keough and Vincent McDonough, all of Hartford.

Order of Ceremonies.

The ceremonies were in four parts: The preludes or preliminary services; the consecration proper; the presentation of insignia, and the conclusion. The Mass celebrated both by the consecrator and the consecrated, during the period of time of the consecration. This followed the preliminary services which embraced the reading of the mandatory, or apostolic commission, the taking of the oath, the examination on the seven questions, the reading of the canons and articles of faith, the vesting of the bishop-elect in Pontifical garments, the exhortation of the consecrator to the consecrated and the chanting of the Litany of the Saints.

The consecration proper was the placing of the evangelarium on the neck and shoulders of the bishop-elect, the imposition of hands and the anointing with holy chrism on the head and hands of the bishop-elect.

The episcopal insignia presentation included the blessing and tradition of the crozier with the accompanying admonition by the consecrator, the placing of the ring and the placing of it on the third finger of the new bishop's right hand, the tradition of the evangelarium with the command to Preach the Gospel to the People entrusted to him. At the offertory the gifts of the Mass, the two loaves of bread, and the two barrels of wine were made to the consecrator. The consecrator continued the Mass with the consecration on the Epistle side of the altar until after the communion when he changed to the Gospel side. After the blessing of the bread, the mitre was blessed and the consecrator placed it on the head of the bishop-elect. Up till this time the consecrator wore his biretta. The gloves were blessed and placed on his hands. The conclusion of the ceremony comprised the singing of the Deum, the blessing by the new bishop, and the singing of the "Ad Multos Annos."

The musical portion of the services was of special arrangement and significance. The Sanctuary choir was directed by Rev. John J. Kelley of Stamford; Rev. Walter McCann of Norwalk, was organist. The chants were by the Revs. J. F. Barrett, W. D. Casey, Joseph C. Martin, Andrew Kelly, Harry Cassidy, James H. Grady, P. J. Dolin, all of Hartford; George Brady, of Windsor Locks; Stephen Grohol of New Britain; Paul Keating, Stamford; Charles M. Kelly, Bridgeport; William Killeway, Waterbury; Denis O'Brien, of Danbury; W. P. O'Brien, Thompsonville; W. F. O'Dell, Elmwood; W. A. Rouvier, Putnam; Edward Shaughnessy, Bridgeport, and Matthew Brady, New Haven.

The retiring of priests who assisted at the altar services was a long one. The thurifer was Rev. Anthony Kaicher, Hartford; the acolytes, Revs. J. A. Doherty, Torrington, and Rev. T. F. Lynch, Ansonia; the cross-bearer, Rev. J. M. Finn, Danbury; the mitre-bearer, Rev. Cornelius Teulings, Waterbury; the crozier-bearer, Rev. David Hutchinson, New Haven; the book-bearer, Rev. J. R. Quinn, Meriden; candle-bearer, Rev. J. J. McCormick, Hartford; greniale-bearer, Rev. Daniel Manning, Waterbury; gloves-bearer, Rev. Edward Flynn, West Hartford.

The chaplains for the mandatum and Evangelarium were Revs. N. P. Coleman, of Riverside, and J. E. McCarthy of Moosup, respectively.

For the offerings they were: Candles, Very Rev. Joseph Byrne, Ferndale; golden loaf of bread, Rev. Charles Coppens, New Britain; silver loaf of bread, Rev. Stanislaus Musiel, Hartford; golden chalice of wine, Rev. Joseph Valdambrini, Waterbury and silver chalice of wine, Rev. Walter Greene, Hartford. The clerics for the conservator's vestments were: Sandals and cushion, Rev. W. P. Kearney, Bristol; amice and faldstool, Rev. Joseph Yankowski, Waterbury; alb, Rev. Stephen Paulik, Torrington; cincture, Rev. Peter Karamarsh, Hartford; stole, Rev. H. F. McCarthy, Hartford; tunic, Rev. C. P. Kelly, New Haven; dalmatic, Rev. W. T. O'Brien, Baltic; chasuble, Rev. W. P. Ladin, Foxcastle. The custodian of holy oils and ponticals was Rev. Dr. J. E. Joyce, East Haven and the linen grimalle, Rev. J. E. McCarthy, Moosup. The vestments of Bishop Murray were in charge of Rev. E. A. Cotter, Middletown.

The bishop's ring given to Rt. Rev. Bishop Murray by the archbishop, with an eagle, emblematic of St. John, the Evangelist, engraven on the upper section. A dove represents Gregory the Great; three silver stars in a field of blue, are from the arms of the Murray family in Ireland. The words on the ring are Agnus Dei. The further engraving is of a column from an eleventh century church in Venice; a rose emblematic of Mary, the Mother of God, and a lily for St. Joseph, the patron saint of the cathedral.

The bishop's pectoral cross is a copy of the Cross of Cong, A. D. 1123, now in the National Museum at Dublin. The central stone is an emerald with forty-four small emeralds in the setting. The metal is green gold and the tracery is Celtic. The receptacle is for relics of the martyrs and such were placed in it during the consecration.

The crozier, the episcopal emblem, is of gold, five feet in length, jointed, the crozier support is a cross with an amethyst on each side deeper in color than that in the ring.

The alb, a seamless robe of white hand-made lace, was wrought by Sisters of St. Joseph of Le Puy, in southern France. It was the gift of Sisters of St. Joseph convent, Hartford. The alb is worn over the cassock. The red silk of the cuffs is indicative of rank. Under the alb is the amice over the rochet, and around the alb is a siltken girdle. A stole of silk is over the shoulders and a tunic over the stole.

The chasuble is of white watered silk with gold fleur-de-lis embroidered with a monogram of Christ in the center. This was made by the Dominican Sisters of Hunt's Point, the Bronx, New York.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. A. Keefe of Norfolk.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. H. Flynn, the new chancellor of the diocese, the assistant masters, Revs. T. J. Brennan, B. J. Keough and Vincent McDonough, all of Hartford.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. A. Keefe of Norfolk.

The master of ceremonies was Rev. W. A. Keefe of Norfolk.

Upheaval in Siberia Is Serious

Believe Several Hundred Japanese Massacred.

Washington, April 28—Japanese guards in the district of Nikolaevsk, eastern Siberia, are believed to have been annihilated and several hundred Japanese residents, including the Japanese consular corps, massacred, according to an official statement issued by the Japanese foreign office and made public today by the state department.

The Japanese statement said the suspension of communication with the district rendered it impossible to get at the real state of affairs, but that it was evident that "a serious upheaval had taken place." Efforts of the Japanese to dispatch a military expedition into the district have failed, because of the ice.

Meantime, however, the Japanese have sent an expedition to Nikolaevsk, accompanied by the warships Mikas and Mishima. The forces reached their destination April 22 and found the Japanese residents in that district safe. Most of them were taken aboard the Mikas.

The Japanese statement said the suspension of communication with the district rendered it impossible to get at the real state of affairs, but that it was evident that "a serious upheaval had taken place." Efforts of the Japanese to dispatch a military expedition into the district have failed, because of the ice.

Meantime, however, the Japanese have sent an expedition to Nikolaevsk, accompanied by the warships Mikas and Mishima. The forces reached their destination April 22 and found the Japanese residents in that district safe. Most of them were taken aboard the Mikas.

The Japanese statement said the suspension of communication with the district rendered it impossible to get at the real state of affairs, but that it was evident that "a serious upheaval had taken place." Efforts of the Japanese to dispatch a military expedition into the district have failed, because of the ice.

Meantime, however, the Japanese have sent an expedition to Nikolaevsk, accompanied by the warships Mikas and Mishima. The forces reached their destination April 22 and found the Japanese residents in that district safe. Most of them were taken aboard the Mikas.

The Japanese statement said the suspension of communication with the district rendered it impossible to get at the real state of affairs, but that it was evident that "a serious upheaval had taken place." Efforts of the Japanese to dispatch a military expedition into the district have failed, because of the ice.

Meantime, however, the Japanese have sent an expedition to Nikolaevsk, accompanied by the warships Mikas and Mishima. The forces reached their destination April 22 and found the Japanese residents in that district safe. Most of them were taken aboard the Mikas.

The Japanese statement said the suspension of communication with the district rendered it impossible to get at the real state of affairs, but that it was evident that "a serious upheaval had taken place." Efforts of the Japanese to dispatch a military expedition into the district have failed, because of the ice.

Meantime, however, the Japanese have sent an expedition to Nikolaevsk, accompanied by the warships Mikas and Mishima. The forces reached their destination April 22 and found the Japanese residents in that district safe. Most of them were taken aboard the Mikas.

The Japanese statement said the suspension of communication with the district rendered it impossible to get at the real state of affairs, but that it was evident that "a serious upheaval had taken place." Efforts of the Japanese to dispatch a military expedition into the district have failed, because of the ice.

Meantime, however, the Japanese have sent an expedition to Nikolaevsk, accompanied by the warships Mikas and Mishima. The forces reached their destination April 22 and found the Japanese residents in that district safe. Most of them were taken aboard the Mikas.

The Japanese statement said the suspension of communication with the district rendered it impossible to get at the real state of affairs, but that it was evident that "a serious upheaval had taken place." Efforts of the Japanese to dispatch a military expedition into the district have failed, because of the ice.

Meantime, however, the Japanese have sent an expedition to Nikolaevsk, accompanied by the warships Mikas and Mishima. The forces reached their destination April 22 and found the Japanese residents in that district safe. Most of them were taken aboard the Mikas.